

Four Corners after school programs
creative

Four Corners Creative works with schools in New York to bring premier dance and acting programs to all students. Our curriculum is tailored to each school's need and class levels. All of our classes are non-competitive and designed to encourage every child's unique personality and gifts, promoting fitness, fun and creativity.

Our teachers are all highly trained professionals in their field, and they continually work to provide exciting and innovative classes that stimulate early childhood development, imagination, intellectual development, exercise and self-confidence.

Four Corners Creative is the option when you want your child to learn more than steps... and learn more about themselves.

To learn more, contact Kate Meek at contact@fourcornerscreative.com or 913-706-7942.